About the hosting organization

Founded 2007, Hosting Organization has become one of the most important and long-lasting community dance programmes in continental Europe.

Participants get the opportunity to develop their creative and artistic potential through involvement in artistic processes. Choreography, understood as the practice of movement in time and space, serves as an instrument to promote social inclusion. The interpersonal communication enabled in the rehearsal space counteracts prejudice and provides a positive incentive to actively grapple with today's challenging socio-political events, such as immigration and refugee movements.

Hosting Organization focuses on reaching out to the population living and working around BROTFABRIK WIEN in particular, when implementing projects at KULTURHAUS BROTFABRIK. In addition, the dance programme is also active in other city districts, e.g. the district "Ottakring".

The target groups can be divided in several sub-categories:

- population / people living in the area
- community (arts) workers & civil society organisations
- "new" players in the area: galleries and others organisations of BROTFABRIK WIEN.
- cultural institutions and non-profit organisations in Vienna and Lower Austria

Training during the activity

The volunteers will be involved in supporting mainly host organization projects and activities, but also other initiatives (art and craft workshops, repaircafé, concerts, children's events).

The volunteers are also encouraged to present their own ideas, which they might come up with when getting in touch with the residents. However, this is not compulsory.

National and International dance projects are planned at KULTURHAUS BROTFABRIK.

Also the volunteers have the chance to be involved, in research activities, and the communication with the participants and partners.

The volunteers will be involved in supporting these programmes. Hosting Organization projects deal with the topics: • Participatory dance • Co-Creation • Inclusion in dance • Creativity • Choreography

Activity description

According to the interests of the volunteers in combination with already acquired abilities and skills there are several fields of action. The volunteers will find a big variety of tasks, which offer many possibilities to learn by doing. The fields of action are

- Supporting the team in planning of local dance projects
- Supporting the team in planning of international projects
- assistance at dance workshops and rehearsals
- marketing for disadvantaged groups (improving concepts, implementation, direct outreach work) photography and video documentation
- Administrative Support (Digitalisation of physical documents, Maintenance of Excelsheets)
- Supporting the team in technical tasks during the preparations for performances
- Social Media

Participants profile

The international working language is English. Nevertheless, the implementation of the local dance program in the neighbourhood requires profound German language skills. You should be motivated to learn German.

You should be interested in participatory dance and the topics of TANZ DIE TOLERANZ.

You should also have strong motivation to support us with the photo and video documentation of our activities and be interested in the creative use of social media tools to support the visibility of our work. Potential volunteers should be open to meeting new people, engaging with strangers and building relationships with the participants of our dance programs and staff members. We expect the volunteer to have good communication skills, to be capable of working in a team, and to be open minded.

Since the fields of action are diverse, we are convinced that it is possible to match the competencies of the candidates and their specific situation with their potential tasks by hosting organization at KULTURHAUS BROTFABRIK. Make sure to let us know in the application form what your motivation is to join our project!

However, in the selection procedure a preference is shown for candidates with fewer opportunities.

Which services will I receive as a volunteer?

Seminars

You will be invited for a Pre-departure Training in your home country (by your support organisation and/or National Agency), and an On-arrival Training and a Mid-term Meeting in the country of your volunteering activity (organized by the local National Agency). All these trainings are free (you do not have to pay for travel, accommodation, or food), but participation is mandatory!

Travel

Your outward- and return journey will be supported financially through a travel lump sum. Sometimes, all expenses can be covered, in some cases there will remain a deductible (which you have to cover yourself). Your travel journeys/tickets are always booked in accordance with the supporting and the coordinating organizations.

Only the expenses will be covered, which effectively result from your outward and return journey. That means that if you want to visit your family at home during your holidays, you have to buy and pay for the ticket yourself. Also travels within the country of your residence are not covered by the program, except for the transport between your accommodation and host organization.

Accommodation

Accommodation will be provided to you by the project. This can vary, depending on the project: you can live “in the project” (e.g. a room in social housing), or with a host family, in a shared apartment together with other volunteers or students, or in rare cases alone. You cannot choose your accommodation as it depends on the resources and possibilities of your host organisation. Usually, information about the accommodation is stated in the project description and you will receive detailed information (address, number of flatmates, etc.) a few weeks before your arrival.

The accommodation will not be luxurious, but it will be safe and cover all your basic needs.

Food

Food will either be provided by your host organization, or you will receive a monthly food allowance (money). In kindergartens it is for example common practice that the volunteer eats lunch at the project and receives a small amount every month as food allowance for breakfast and dinner. In case you have certain dietary habits or food allergies, you should state this information in your application form!

Local transport

Local transport means transport from your accommodation to your project (if you are not living in the project anyway). This could be a ticket for the local bus or a bicycle, for example. In Vienna we usually provide you with a monthly public transport ticket which is valid for all buses, trams, trains, subways, night buses, etc.

Pocket money

You will receive pocket money monthly. The amount is different in each country and depends on the living costs in the respective country. In Austria the standardized amount is 5€ per day, so approximately 150€ per month. It is recommended to open a bank account in Austria, so we can transfer your pocket money to you every month in Euro. In exceptional cases, you can also receive your monthly allowances in cash.

Language course

You will receive access to the Online Linguistic Support (OLS). This is the online language learning platform provided by the European Solidarity Corps program.

If you participate in a European Solidarity Corps volunteering project within the organization program in Vienna, you will also receive a budget to book a language course in Vienna. You can choose the course together with your host organization and organization can support you with finding a suitable language course.

Insurance

You are insured during your voluntary service. The insurance is compulsory and the same for all volunteers. It encompasses health-, accident-, and liability insurance. It is provided by the program and free of charge, meaning that you do not have to pay for it! However, in some cases you might have to first cover the costs for a doctor’s visit or (certain) medication by yourself and will then get them refunded by the insurance. For this, you must keep the bill and submit it via an online form to the insurance. If there are higher expenses, for example a hospital stay, the insurance will settle this with the hospital directly.

organization can also offer administrative support in communicating with the insurance and asking for reimbursements.

You will receive more information about the insurance at your pre-departure training.

Tutor and Mentor

There will be a tutor in the project, whose responsibility it is to explain tasks to you and give you task-related information and training. The tutor is also the person you will agree your working schedule and vacation days with. The mentor on the other hand is a person that is not directly working with you but is somehow connected to your project. The mentor knows your work colleagues and work context and can mediate between you and the project, if any problems should arise. The mentor's role is to support your integration in your work context and host country, to support your personal wellbeing, as well as your learning journey.

In case there are any problems, it is always best to speak to your mentor and/or tutor first and try to solve the issue directly with them. However, Grenzenlos and your support organization will also be there for you throughout the volunteering activity.

Certificate and Youthpass

At the end of your European Solidarity Corps, you will receive a European Solidarity Corps certificate, which confirms your participation in the volunteering activity. You can also write and receive a Youthpass, which is a certificate that confirms your participation but also your learning outcomes, i.e. the competences you have gained.

Additional Needs

Everyone, between 18 – 30 years, despite their (dis)abilities, level of education, language skills, social background, etc. can do a European Solidarity Corps volunteering project!

The program offers various possibilities and special funding to support your inclusion and participation in a European Solidarity Corps volunteering project. For example, it is possible to receive personal assistance during the volunteering activity, have (sign) language interpretation, receive additional language training, and/or personal support and reinforced mentorship, if needed. These are just a few examples. We will discuss together with you what measures/aids are going to be needed to support your participation.

It is, however, important that you inform us about your needs already when you apply for a project. This way, we can make sure that the project you applied for is suitable/accessible for you, and we and the host organization can plan our resources and organize the needed support measures in time for your project start. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any doubts or questions!
