This is who we are!

The host organization is a vibrant living and working community for adults with special needs. It is a private social service provider. Our task is to maintain and improve our residents' well-being. We offer both sheltered housing and supported housing. We have 50 residents and together we are about 100 people including also co-workers and volunteers.

It consists of:

- three homes for our residents
- biodynamic farm (taking care of animals and fieldwork)
- weavery (weaving rugs and tablecloths and other crafts)
- maintaining and firewood group (working in the forests, making firewood, shoveling snow, and mowing the lawn)
- garden and herb workshop (taking care of plants and harvesting and making products such as tea and herbal mixtures)
- daytime activity group (crafts, art, and music)
- small village shop where we sell our workshop products
- We have a rich cultural life with different festivals and activities. Our aims and values are the well-being of all residents, enabling an individual life, supporting self-determination, and developing a balanced work and community life. In our community, everyone is special and deserves acceptance, respect, and meaningful life content. In addition, we are very aware of the surrounding environment and take care of nature.

About the activity

Every year we welcome 4 volunteers from all over the world to become integrated into all aspects of life in the host community. We have four decades of experience in voluntary work, and everyone is happy about new people who become new friends and are in the end like family members. We collaborate with international organizations that provide seminars and training for volunteers who join our community.

As a volunteer, you will become a part of a one house family. You will provide support and friendship to the residents. Volunteers support together with the co-workers the well-being of the residents. Each volunteer participates in a workshop to assist the residents. Training is implemented through work, and more responsibility is given to each volunteer as they show themselves ready for new challenges. Everything is about doing together and supporting, not seeing the residents as an object of treatment.

Volunteers are responsible for a variety of tasks such as participating in our workshops, organizing cultural and free time activities. A typical day consists of common meals, morning and afternoon workshops, cultural and social activities, and house chores activities throughout the day and in the evening. The weekends are more relaxed. The volunteers are involved in social and leisure activities depending on what the residents want to do.
