About the activity

The host organization kindergarten has four groups of children of different ages (between 2 and 6 years old): three Lithuanian groups and one Ukrainian group. In total, 50 children attend the kindergarten.

Volunteers often work closely with teachers to assist in various STREAM activities. This may include helping with lesson preparation, setting up learning materials, and supporting children during activities. Volunteers may assist with hands-on science experiments, building projects, or other STEM-related tasks. In some cases, volunteers may provide one-on-one or small group support for children who need extra assistance.

Volunteers may also work with kindergarten staff to plan and organize healthy living activities, such as physical fitness routines, nutrition education sessions, and mindfulness exercises. They can help create lesson plans and gather the necessary materials. During physical activities, volunteers help ensure the safety of the children by supervising them closely, etc.

About the activity

The host organization Family Strengthening Program helps keep children in the care of their families. We support disadvantaged families at risk of separation by strengthening their capacity to protect and care for their children. The host organization aims to help families learn how to take care of themselves so that they can live independently in the long term. Only in this way can we ensure that children are not left behind and that they grow up within their families.

The host organization is convinced that it is almost always best for children to grow up in families. The Children's Day Centre was established for children growing up in families facing social risk or living in poverty. On average, 25 children have the opportunity to attend the Day Care Centre every working day. Here, they can do homework, play, interact, participate in group activities, and attend cooking lessons. If necessary, children are also provided with psychological consultations, and emotional expression strategies are applied.

Volunteer Profile

The volunteer must be between 18 and 30 years old. The main criteria for choosing volunteers - a motivation to work with the target group of hosting organization.

About the activity

The host organization is a non-governmental school established by parents and teachers and based on Waldorf pedagogy. The school is part of a large global community of Waldorf schools, which today includes over a thousand schools worldwide. In Lithuania, the host organization operates within the framework of non-traditional education and the Waldorf pedagogical concept.

The main goal of the host organization is to develop creative, open-minded, and self-confident individuals. At the host organization, subjects are taught through programs developed by teachers, drawing on the curricula and experiences of Waldorf schools in other countries, while taking into account the local cultural context, pedagogical traditions, Lithuanian general education programs, and national education standards.

The mission of the host organization is to create a space where children and young people can discover their natural potential, develop their abilities and skills, and prepare themselves to achieve their own goals in life.
