The host organization imagines a learning center that is: a living space, where COoperation and REgeneration are the forces that shape every action. In the educational programs we carry out, we intend that knowledge is not only transmitted, but Relearned in a Collaborative way. ### About the activity

Participants become part of a learning community and a living community ecosystem, collaborating with local projects and contributing ideas, knowledge, and innovative perspectives. This is an immersive experience where collective action, hands-on learning, and everyday coexistence foster new ways of inhabiting and regenerating the territory.
